

GARDEN DECKING

If you are looking for increased living space, our extensive range of decking products will enhance any outdoor space, enabling you to use and enjoy your garden at any time of the year. These quality softwood decking products are all pressure treated with green Tanalith, which ensures long service life and protection against fungal attack.

Our decking boards and balustrading products are all produced from European Redwood, with joist timbers and posts from European Whitewood. Our decking is a reversible board, which can be used either way up – grooved one side, smooth the other – meaning you can use either finish, or mix the boards up to create different effects.

We stock two different balustrading options – either a turned option, giving a more traditional appearance, or a stop chamfer option, for a more contemporary look.

In addition to these, we also supply the full range of Richard Burbidge outdoor balustrading products – in softwood, metal, hardwood and the exciting Fusion range. To view the full range visit <http://www.richardburbidge.co.uk/homeowner/outdoor-balustrade>

In addition to the above, we also stock Hardwood decking Yellow Balau – a dense, hardwearing timber with a naturally colour. These boards can be used with hardwood from the Richard Burbidge range to give a high quality, long that will be a valued addition to any project.
